"WHEN THEY ASK ABOUT YOU"

New World

In today's world of raging war,
Where peace has ceased to be,
Where distorted minds strive only for
Suppression of the free,
May we catch a dream from a shining star,
Far away in airy space,
So aglow with light that we see afar,
A new world growing apace!

In sky above and on roaring sea,
As planes and battleships sail,
Our dreams are strong for unity,
Stout-hearted to prevail.
Star above gives a luminous fire
To kindle the heart again,
To feel and affirm its noble desire—
"Peace on earth—good will to men."

Few minds kindling in revengeful fire;
Few soldiers clashing in deadly ire—
For reason, true-toned as dulcet lyre,
Is sounding Hymns of Peace—

Peace giving comfort in our tears;
Peace bringing music to our ears;
Peace, firm and strong, daring through the night,
To promise relief from the world's dark plight:
"Peace on earth—good will to men."

—Virginia Sanford.

"Now It Can Be Told"

Scanning the old recordings of the past four years here at P. H. S., we find many popular hits of yesterday and the hot tunes of today, from "Tuxedo Junction" to "Cow Cow Boogie" and "Star Eyes". Since these recordings have gone down to posterity, we, the Seniors, wish to add the following recordings of "Something to Remember 'Us' By":

Ollis Thompson wishes to leave his passing abilities to Sammy Sisson, while Tom Banks leaves his title of "The Best Gruesome of the Twosome" to Jimmy Nelson.

Virginia Early leaves her record for being the most in love to Bobby Braun and Betty Jane Till.

Arthur Walker leaves his political dispute with Mr. Gochenour to any good Democrat, Conrad Hauser donates his privilege of arguing with him to Alfred Frazer, and Mildred Thomas leaves him her copy of "El Si de las Ninas".

R. H. McDuff wills all his history tests to the paper collection.

Mary Frances Lane leaves her long eyelashes to Ann Montgomery (Lucky girl! They are scarce nowadays).

Bill Miller wills his wonderful voice to Charlie Fulgham.

Doris Steelman assigns her ability to pass Spanish to Charlotte Smith, and Gloria Tucker wills her French and Spanish books to Freshman Betty Stubbs.

John Hollingsworth tearfully leaves his ability to make noise to anyone who can measure up to his standard.

Imogene Thornhill passes on the punts from Mr. Fullington to the next "Tiny" coming into his law classes.

Don McCormick, Hugh Neighbors, Royce Lowe and Rufus Bethea leave their mad dash to be first in the lunch line to the future occupants of 215 the first half of the fifth period.

Betty Bilgere leaves her locker to another "Gruesome Twosome".

Bill Cheatham would like to bequeath an air-tight bucket to his little brother, Jerry, so he can carry a tune.

Jack Grider regretfully cedes his car (the noisiest vehicle around school) to Patsy Hawkins and Peggy Anderson.

Edith McKay assigns to her dear sister Frances her ability for getting Arthur Walker to help her with themes.

Randall Williams gives to any unfortunate taking shorthand his inalienable privilege of having a front seat in Miss Reagin's class.

Jimmie Windham gives her history book to anyone who can get more out of it than she does.

Courtney Robbins bequeaths to all 'rats' his knack of always having to see the Schedule Committee. ("It Seems to Me I've Heard That Song Before").

Virginia Tidwell casts her band uniform to all who look good in red.

Alvin Davis sends his sympathy to all who have a bottom locker.

Jane Major and Weesie Goodall reserve their R.O.T.C. uniforms for Company C and Company D with all their love!

Willie Taylor leaves his green pleated slacks to any Hep Cat who needs 'em.

Margaret Ann Newton leaves her place as first flutist to Jane Barnett.

Ben Watson gives his brain to any senior biology class to dissect (don't be disappointed at the contents).

Sarah Barret passes on her marshal post outside 317 to Clayton Kyser, while Marie Monteith leaves her post by 314 to anyone who likes Mr. Fullington's jokes.

Dick Matheny and Annie Lou Price leave their lease on a corner of the third floor hall to Hilary Phillips and his girl friends.

Betty Sue Smith leaves her best wishes to Virginia Ann Holcombe and Lynn Hawkins.

Joe Schoel hopes Pop Keller gets all the lucky Ushers in the future.

Jeanne Chesser wills her English and chemistry notebooks to Jeanne Rankin.

Leroy Whited advises all math stooges to take the advantage of learning math from Coach Dawson, who teaches all his Mama's darlings by the example method of tall tales.

Joyce Jennings leaves her ability for thinking up questions to distract Miss Kennedy's attention from the lesson to any eighth semester student who doesn't know his history lesson.

Dot Reynolds and Eleanor Pedigo pass on their perfect friendship to Margaret Cooper and Edna Earle.

Bob Shaw leaves the ability to find a cute-good-looking girl to Frank Trechsel.

Betty Jo McIntosh and Peggy Lowery will their pin-ups pictures (in their lockers) to any two lovelorn misses.

Frank Harrison leaves all his love to Polly Gillespie and Alex Maddox leaves his love to Peggy Lay.

Geraldine Smith wills her wonderful shorthand grades to Mildred Courington.

Geraldine Arledge leaves her combination lock to her brother Bill, who will be an addition to Phillips next fall.

Sam Johnson wishes to bestow his good looks on Billy Pogue.

Mary Dobbs wishes to leave Mr. Gochenour alone! and her place in Miss Comer's heart to Martha Holliday.

Drusilla Lane wills her height to Sara Jackson.

Betty Diseker leaves to her sister "Squirt" her ability to get by.

Mary Ann Gillespie, beng of sound mind and not acting under influence, bequeaths to Jessie Nell Ehl one shorthand book.

Jane Murphree donates her dear old typewriter in room 326, together with her shorthand books, to any poor unknowing freshman.

Libba Ledyard wills her most prized home economics notebook to Peggy Perkins.

Frances Crosby leaves plenty of luck to the next Battalion Sponsor of the R.O.T.C. so she can learn everyone of the boys, privates, too, and make it and keep it the best battalion in the city.

Jessie Rea and Martee McReynolds donate their top lockers to Anne Ellison, and Sister Lovell provided that the partition between the two is removed, enlarging the room for their "Rogues Gallery".

Elizabeth Wall wills her English Notebook to Nancy Day, while Margean Praytor leaves all her Spanish worries to Mr. Gochenour's future senior session rooms and her "Home Sweet Home" locker to Jeanette Estes.

Billy Moughon leaves Mrs. Wulffaert a permanent piano tuner.

Emily Gibbs leaves fond remembrances to everybody.

Mary E. Graves wills her locker with all the candy, peanuts, and fruit to Paul Pinson who is responsible for it, also her gold wings to Jean Barnett.

Marion Joanne Bingaman wills her smile to Mary McIntosh and Edna Robinson, also her place in the choir to Dot Richard.

Gene Bell would gladly will her claim on American, British, and French cadets to Edna Earl Thompson—if they weren't already claimed, and June Massey leaves her knowledge of the Air Corps to the R.O.T.C. boys.

Elsie Ann Zander wills her Virgil Book to Miss Senn's seventh period class.

Mona Allison leaves her love for drums to Edith Perkinson.

Jeanne Gates hands on her little hands to anyone who doesn't play the clarinet.

Ruth Powell regretfully leaves her assortment of excuses to Dorothy Comfort, and Margaret Ingram leaves her collected O.K.'s also.

If Phillips is lucky enough to get a Juke Box in the lunchroom, Jane Tarrant will donate everyone of her Frank Sinatra records to the gals of P.H.S.

In years to come when you want "A Lovely Way to Spend an Evening," just "Take It Easy" and look back over this last recording here at P. H. S.

So long,

Jo Bingaman,
Recorder of Wills and Testaments.

"It Ain't Necessarily So"

Mumble—mumble—mumble—Sold Phillipian! Tune in on your Hit Parade and you will hear musical prophecies compiled from their own choices of destiny as reported to your interviewer. "L. S. M. F. T.—L. S. M. F. T." Lovely songs mean future things!

Number one on the Hit Parade is "Anchors Aweigh," the favorite among our boys and even the girls. On the "Bama" is Colonel Boman Webber, Captain Ralph McMeekin, Bombardier Philip Devore, Ensign Louis Stanton and Flight Lieutenant Don Thornbury. Admiral George Summerville is aboard the S. S. P. H. S. docked on the Coosa River, with a crew composed of Captain Estelle Brake, Ensign Gloria Peterson, Lt. (j.g.) Josephine Grasse, Ensign Mary Elizabeth Wall and Cadet Nurse Frances Tompkins.

Second on your list of hits is "This Is The Army". Colonel Marilyn Miller, Major Beverly Coshatt and Captain Jane Stopinski are looking over recruits, with Sergeant Elmyra Burbage standing by. On K. P. duty are Buddy Alford, Mac Wood, Don Nelson and John Hawkins.

The third of your top tunes is "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home To," voted for by Jodie Parks, Jimmie Blackwell, and Billy Stewart. In a mansion "High on a Windy Hill" lives Martha Ann McLeroy. "I'm Going to Move to the Outskirts of Town," says Virginia Griffith. Following the horses, Betty Jacob owns a ranch and Rancher who is no Lone Ranger. Dorothy Shirley, unlike Margaret Gough, our friend from Chile, who is pursuing the study of psychology in college, is interested only in an M. R. S. degree. Mary Jean Kendrick's house is "Just a Cottage Small by a Waterfall," while Jane Tarrant prefers one of "Deep Purple" with red shutters. "All for Love" received the votes of Mary Jo Orr, Lillie Bess Holston and Loula Rogers.

Number four on your Hit Parade is "The Band Played On." We take you now to New York City to the Paramount Theater. The bright lights proclaim "Fess Mayer and His All Girl Band"—Mona Allison, Jeanne Gates, Margaret Ingram, Ruth Powell, Doris Steelman and Janie Little, with Jimmie Lou Windham singing her "Blues in the Night." Bill Shrader and his band are providing "Broadway Melody", too, playing at various night spots with such music makers as Robert Adams, Howard Hubbard, Thomas Slauson, and Robert Lynch.

The fifth ranking song is "Happy Go Lucky." Nettye Holmes, Bettye Crawford, Eva Downey, Elizabeth Ledyard, Betty Hallmark and Jean Sherrod spend most of their time dining, spending money and taking in the sights. Others whose theme is "Take It Easy" are Edith Pickel, Martha Huddleston, Joyce Sentell, Laura Maddox, Sara Maddox and Geraldine Ford. They are all "Lazybones," loafing in the sun at a summer resort. In his private yacht basin, Millionaire A. G. Phillips spends his time fishing but not for "Small Fry."

Number six on the Hit Parade is "Nice Work If You Can Get It." As glamor girls in the movies and on the stage are Tillie Fulgham, Carolyn Jones and June Massey, with Geraldine Coleman being chosen a Powers model. The career women are many. Kitty Austin, Theresa Goss, Dorothy Byrd, Jane Murphree, Norma Rose Holzman and Mildred Thompson chose to be secretaries to handsome employers. The "Fourth Estate" enticed Alice Webber who is authoring a social column. Dorothy Stevenson is chopping logs in a "match" factory, but tennis champion Peggy Lowery never chops any shots. In the medical world are Martha Ann Taylor, Sarah Norred, and Betty Jane West. It is not the "Three Little Fishes" making such a splash, but Annie Sue Carder winning a natatorial meet. Morris Villadsen is really riding high on a tidal wave of success as a new Noel Coward who writes, directs, and acts in his own plays on "The Great White Way," while Mary Leta English is being called a modern Bernhardt by the critics. In a Chicago office is Fred Martin, a certified public accountant, looking at—that is, adding up—figures. Also in the "Windy City" is Drayton Scott and Mary Carroll Jolly, following the due course of the law. "The Last Time I saw Paris" Gloria Tucker had gone over as an exchange teacher to help AMGOT after the war. "Ma, I like Your Apple Pie"—Inez Day is helping keep Young America healthy as a nutritionist.

Number seven on your Hit Parade is "The Birmingham Special." Leaving the northern cities for the Magic City, we find playing at the Temple Theater the comedians, Beverly Cunningham and Billy Johnson. Kitty Johns is piloting a street car on an east-west run. "Found a Million Dollar Baby" behind the candy counter. It is Cathren Dickinson. The whole city is trying to decide which "native son" to vote for in the presidential election, since Roosevelt finally retired, with Hugh Neighbors, Leroy Whited, and Ralph Brooks all running. Joyce Jennings decided that "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," so left to write a travel column for a local paper.

Here is a Lucky Strike extra, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," where the Brooklyn Dodgers are favorites because Adrian Watson is hitting homers.

The number eight song is "A Poem to Music." Virginia Sanford's talent has carried her to the top of the bookshelves. Also, Bobby Bell and Rodney Moffett won the Pulitzer Prize in literature.

Number nine on the Hit Parade is "From the Halls of Montezuma". Major James Attaway of the Marine Air Corps is "Flying High in the Sky."

We switch you to California for number ten on your Hit Parade, "I Want to Be a Cowboy's Sweetheart." On the plains near Santa Fe are Dorothy Kessler and Margie Myers making the San Fernando Valley their home.

So long for awhile

That's all the songs for awhile;

So long to the Hit Parade and the Songs you have picked to be played;

True for you they will be.

We hope luck will strike you, Dame Fortune will like you,

And you reach the highest rung ere Fate rings the gong.

"L. S. M. F. T."

Your Hit Parade Reporter,

Annie Jo Conner.

The Swamp

Realm of darkness; tepid mists
Writhe in and out the cypress trees,
Through rushes knee-deep in the mud,
Into the tawny bay.

The cottonmouth and the diamond-back,
Stalkers of the rancid mists,
Slither through dun swamp grass
Like lean and sallow Death.

The lazy alligator bulls,
Like logs upon the stagnant pools,
Lie languidly amidst the brush
Along the water edge.

In spite of darkness and of gloom,
The depths a wild enchantment hold—
Beauty of an untamed world
Within the eerie mists.

Perfidious and lurid
Sunlit patches here and there
Reveal through lush undergrowth
A feral, savage beauty.

—Bobby Bell.

SEMPER IBIDEM

Drink to me only with thine eyes
And I'll strew roses and liliacs over thy name,
But do not say that every body in the universe
Attracts every other body in the same.

Sing me the songs that once were so dear
That brought joy and comfort and peace to me,
But admit it can be more briefly put
Than to be or not to be.

Flow gently, sweet Afton
Through meadow and forest and chasm,
But do not say that all of life
Is composed of protoplasm.

Oh, sweet mystery of life,
Must you everyone confuse,
For only the squares of the other two sides
Equal the square of the hypotenuse.

When the moon comes over the mountain
And the universe is completely one-sided,
Never dare confess
That all Gaul is divided.

For, should old acquaintance be forgot,
Then who would be left to blame
That everything in all the world
Is evermore the same?

—Elsie Ann Zander.
